CORONER INVESTIGATES REPORTED LAWLESSNESS AMONG EMPLOYEES

Says on The Average Two Italians Have Been Killed Per Day in New York Excavation Work

New York, May 17.—According to Coroner Acritelli, lawlessness has prevailed for months in the excavation which the O'Rourke Construction Co. is making for the Grand Central station and the Italian Government has demanded an investigation. The coroner caused the arrest of John Eldred, general superintendent of the O'Rourke Co., and held him in $1000 bail, on a charge of homicide. There has been an average of two deaths a day among the employees. The coroner said: "Most of the deaths have been among the Italian employees. For two weeks I have been investigating at the request of the Italian Government. There has been a feud between Irish and Italian laborers. It seems that an Italian did not know how to handle dynamite. It went off and killed an Irishman. Ever since that ledges of rock had a way of falling upon Italians. Most of the drillers are Irishmen and the Italians do the laborers' work."

SERIOUS AFFRAY AT LACOMBE

Man on Trial for Assaulting Another With a Beer Bottle

Lacombe, May 17.—On Monday night, a party of young men went into the Victoria Hotel bar and grew rather noisy. Fred Lohman the bar-tender, and son of the proprietor, had some high words with Frank Harvey, a young American in the crowd and to emphasize his remarks, stole up behind Harvey, and used a beer bottle with serious effect. The first blow on the back of the head, cut four inches long to the skull. The beer bottle broke in the middle and Lehman used the broken part as a knife and cut and slashed until the man was hacked in twenty or thirty places. Harvey was conveyed to the office of Dr. Hynes, and nearly succumbed from loss of blood, as two large arteries were severed. His ear was cut in two and many cuts about the face were to the bone. Lehman is no won trial before the magistrate on a charge of assault with intent to injure.

MAYOR TOOK NO GUESS.

Toronto, May 18.—Prof. Mavor expresses surprise that the Saskatchewan Legislature has joined the uninformed critics who have denounced his report without having read it. He says he never made an estimate of the wheat possibilities of the west but merely quoted the estimates of others, offering some criticism thereon. He says the eloquent windbag who makes estimates of millions and millions of bushels without taking into consideration economical conditions does infinite harm to the west, and is not so reliable as the cool critic who goes scientifically into the subject.

Toronto, May 18.—Dr. Falconer, of Pictou, N. S., will be moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, which meets in London on June 6th.

HAIL STORM CAUSED WRECK

Stones Six Inches in Circumference Said to Have Fallen Near Toronto

Toronto, May 17. — A terrific hail storm was the cause of a disastrous railway wreck at Wexford, ten miles east of Toronto. The deluge was so great that the C. P. R. tracks were washed away for fifty yards. The C. P. R. train from Montreal, running forty miles an hour, with two hundred passengers, approached the wash out and the promptness and presence of mind of the engineer alone averted a terrible calamity by quickly reversing the lever. There were no casualties. Hail stones three inches in circumference fell at East Toronto and reliable information declares that stones six inches in circumference fell at Don lands. At East Toronto lightning struck a planing mill and rendered a young woman unconscious.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Dr. Hall, on the charge of cheating at cards, with intent to defraud, was committed for trial at the next sitting of supreme court by Magistrate Wade in the police court yesterday afternoon.

Evidence was taken on the preliminary hearing on Wednesday and Thursday before Magistrate Wade. The evidence given by W. Stewart in two previous cases, was allowed to stand against the accused. It was to the effect that Dr. Hall was present and played poker with Stewart in Hall's room on the nights of the 25th and 26th of April. Stewart and he had lost considerable during the two games. He had become suspicious of the cards they were playing with and he said he took a pack home and discovered the combination of marks on the backs of the cards.

Thos. McCollum, constable, was also a witness in the case. He had searched Hall's room on the 12th of May and had found four decks of cards, and the joker of another pack on top of one of them. He could not find any the same as the joker. He had found some cards of a blue design in a drawer of the washstand. The constable showed the combination on the backs of the cards produced in the court.

Stewart, when on the stand, said he couldn't tell whether accused won or lost either night. Accused had asked him in the billiard room to go and play with him.

Dr. Hall was placed on the stand in his own defence.

He admitted that the cards belonged to him. After the constable had searched his room, it occurred to him that the constable had not searched carefully and there should be more cards to match the joker. He searched and found a pack with the joker and another card missing. On the second night they had played with a blue pack till Pratt brought in two packs from the Palm cigar store, with which they played till the finish of the game. Hall said Stewart owed him a poker debt of $45. Witness had won this $45 in the game and $1 besides. Stewart still owed him the money.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Connor, counsel for the prosecution, Hall said he did not look closely at the cards when they were dealt. They were dealt in the ordinary way. Hall said he was positive Stewart had not lost more than $10 the second night. Hall said he never saw marked cards before, and did not understand the marks on the cards.

W. C. Pratt was the only other witness for the defence. He said he had two packs over to the room from the cigar store. Mr. Carnegie had asked him to take them over. He got them from a pile of packs in the cupboard where the cards were always kept.

TRIED TO LOOT THE TREASURY

Guards at San Francisco Treasury Exchange Shots With Robbers

San Francisco, May 18.—A daring attempt to loot the U. S. treasury was found this morning by soldiers. The soldiers claim that their fire was returned by men who were attempting to loot the safes in the building. Six men from Company G were detailed to guard the treasury vaults last night, three on each side. At 1 o'clock this morning the men stationed on the Commercial street side recognized a man attempting to reach the main entrance of the building. He was ordered to halt but instead started to run and the guard fired at him. The shot did not take effect, and two guards gave chase, leaving one behind. Almost immediately the soldiers on the Clay street side began firing and one of the guards on Commercial street says he saw four men run to the windows of the upper storey of the Treasury. He immediately opened fire and the men in the window replied with revolvers. Thirty shots were exchanged. The men were later seen to come down stairs, but were not again heard of.

CANADA'S WELCOME APPRECIATED.

London, May 17.—In his introductory remarks tonight at the city banquet the Prince of Wales said: "We are looking forward to the return of my cousin, Prince Arthur, who is expected to arrive at Liverpool tomorrow. I know that the country has followed with interest the incidents connected with his visit in Canada. It must be very gratifying to his parents and us to hear that he has won everywhere golden opinions in carrying out the important duties assigned to him."

POLICE OFFICER SHOT

St. Petersburg, Russia, March 17.—Chanoff, a police officer, who participated in the brutal maltreatment of Maria Spicrinot, was shot and killed on the streets here today by an unknown person. Avengers of the young revolutionist recently dealt out the same fate to Cossack officers who boasted of cruelty to her while she was in prison.

A JIM HILL BRANCH.

It is announced that the Great Northern Railway will build the Morden-Walhalla branch of the Midland railway this season, as requested by a delegation of Morden citizens who interviewed the railway authorities some weeks ago. The grading for the line will be begun immediately and if the rails can be got the road will be ready to take out the crop this year.

A HIDDEN TREASURE.

Toronto, May 16.—A Brantford despatch says: Men, while excavating for a cellar under Reginald Gray's house at Burton, found an iron pot at a depth of six feet and inside it a sealed bottel whihc contained a document giving the location of $2,000 in gold buried in that vicinity during the rebellion of 1837 by a party who got no chance to exhume it thereafter. Search is being made for the treasure.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Salt Lake, May 18. — The Mormon church is going out of business. Its principal holdings in the Salt Lake, the Utah Light & Railway Company, are to be taken over by a $25,000,000 corporation composed of English and American capitalists.

CHARGE AGAINST MCLEAN CHANGED

Charge Now Reads "Aiding and Abetting the Suicide of Mary Fortier"

When court resumed yesterday afternoon Mrs. Fortier, mother of the deceased girl, was put on the stand. She said McLean had left their tent early on Friday morning with Mary. When she saw them in the bush afterwards when the woman came to get her, they were having convulsions. Witness asked her daughter, "What have you done? What have you taken? Why have you done it?" She answered, "For nothing, mother. It is done already. I have to go." Witness heard McLean say "Mary, are you gone?" Mary answered "Not yet, my love."

Witness said McLean came to their tent the night before, and Mary was away. The children asked him what he wanted her for. McLean answered, "I have come to bid her a long last farewell."

Witness examined a bottle produced in court and said she had never seen it before. Her daughter had never shown it to her. Witness said on the Wednesday night preceding the affair McLean and Mary had quarrelled about a ring. She could not call it a serious quarrel. Witness said Mary had thought McLean gave the ring to another girl It was a ring which Mary had got from her father and had given to McLean. Witness had said to her daughter some time before that she and McLean should get married.

Belle Mitchell was the next witness. She said that when she saw McLean and Miss Fortier lying in the bush they were lying on their faces. Witness said to Mary "I hope you did not put poison in the chocolates you gave us." She replied, "No, Bella, we fixed it some place else." Witness asked her, "Did he give it to you?" She replied, "No, Bella." I took it myself and he took it."

Witness said, "If I could save you both I would." Witness said that Mary's mother wanted to get some milk. Mary said to her mother, "Don't go, perhaps you will miss me." Witness took Mary's head in her lap, and shortly afterwards she died.

Charge against McLean.

The charge against Geo. McLean has been lessened to that of aiding and abetting the suicide of Mary Fortier. At the conclusion of the hearing of evidence yesterday afternoon the court was adjourned for eight days to allow of the contents of the stomach of the deceased being analyzed. The court will resume on the case next Friday at 11 a.m.

WOMAN DRANK CARBOLIC ACID

Body of Winnipeg Woman Found Near the Assiniboine River This Morning

Winnipeg, May 18.—Lying back of the Assiniboina river, and by its side a flask in which a small amount of carbolic acid yet remained, the body of Mrs. F. Rodway, of Elgin avenue, a well dressed woman, was found this morning. From severe burns in the mouth and nose and the presence of the deadly poison near by ,the police have no doubt that the woman came to her death by her own action.

KAMLOOPS TRAIN ROBBERS HAVE PRELIMINARY HEARING

Constable Who Tracked the Men Gives Graphic Description of the Hunt---Preliminary May Be Finished This Week

Kamloops, B. C., May 17.—Bill Miner, the bandit chief, and his two companions, spent all today in court at Kamloops fighting the charge of train robbery, and they are making a fight. They have employed counsel and every effort is being made to find flaws in the case for the Crown. The Attorney-General whose home town is Kamloops, is taking personal charge of the prosecution. Hon. B. J. Felton wishes to rush the case through its preliminary stages this week, so that the men will be committed for trial before Saturday. Then they will appear at the assizes on Monday and the end will come soon. F. D. McIntyre, attorney for the defence, attacked what he termed the sweat box methods of the police in attempting to secure confessions. He charged that Chief Detective Searcy of the Thief Agency of Seattle, had an interview with the prisoners, declarin gthat he was a lawyer from Vancouver. This was denied in detail by witness for the crown.

Sergt. Wilson of the Mounted Police, was the chief witness today. Constable Fernie who tracked the quarry from the point where they left the train to where they were captured, gave a graphic description of the hunt. He said when the robbers crossed dusty roads they walked backwards on their heels leaving only small round marks which were puzzling until the trackers had found the secret of the combination.

ONLY A HOLD UP NOT OPPOSITION

Opposition Continue to Obstruct Forest Reserve Bill While Favoring Its Purpose

Ottawa, May 17.—There was another long discussion on the forestry reserve bill in the House, but no real Opposition to the measure which had the support of the leader of the opposition at the forestry convention held here last January. The Opposition is holding up the bill because they are afraid prorogation will come too soon. Several Conservatives complained that if owners of leases within reserves did not desire to sell at a reasonable price they could stay there and enjoy all the protection advantages of the Government's works. Mr. Oliver said that if the Government was not able to deal with those who held leases on the proposed reserves then they could come back next session for expropriation powers.

It was a late hour before supply was reached and the marine and fisheries item taken up.

The Bulletin's Daily Budget From the Sister Town

Strathcona, May 17.—Mr. A. Stewart, town, left this afternoon at 4 over The C. & E. for Great Britain. We understand that Mr. Stewart, who has large real estate interests north west of the capital, is combining business and pleasure in his tour and will be absent from town for several weeks.

Mr. C. Gainer, of the Gainer meat firm, left town on the southbound C. & E. train en route for Wetaskiwin, to look after the business of their branch house there.

Mr. A. W. Toll, of the eastern part of the town, is very ill at present. Dr. F. W. Crang is in attendance.

Mr. R. Palmer, of the town hall staff, has recently sold his farm about four and a half miles from town, to Mr. J. Crawford, of Middlesex Co., Ont. for $35 per acre. Mr. Palmer bought this farm a few years ago at $5 per acre, and now, after receiving a good annual profit therefrom, disposes of it at a clear gain of 600 per cent. on the original outlay. Taking this instance as an example, farming must be a profitable business in Alberta. Mr. Brickman is the tenant on the farm and has the privilege, according to the lease, of possession until April, 1908.

Mr. J. E. Tebbutt, late of Grand Valley, Ont., was in town to-day on business. He has been in the west about two months, and speaks hopefully of the future. He has been busy down the C. N. R. as Invisahit as a builder, and has also taken up a homestead in that growing town. He purposes to bring his wife and family up from the east as soon as he can build a suitable residence.

Contractor McFarlane, who last year did considerable work for the Dominion Indian Department, has just received notice that his services will soon again be required by the Dominion Government in Southern Alberta.

Mr. J. A. Findlay, a rancher near Nanton, came into town a couple of days ago with a carload of horses, which he is selling at good prices.

Mr. O'Hara, late partner with Mr. Williams, and also with Mr. George in the Windsor Hotel, who lately sold out to Mr. McGuire, the present proprietor, has gone down to Old Battleford to engage in the hotel business there. He reports much activity, business and growth in the town where he has gone and much railway construction in that district.

Mr. J. Fletcher, who left town some three weeks ago returned to town last night. He went to purchase horses, and has succeeded in securing two carloads which he expects to arrive here in a few hours. He reports horses very scarce in Washington, Idaho and B. C., and many eastern buyers there and prices ruling high.

TO EXTEND WORK

Toronto May 16.—One hundred and seventy-three thousand dollars is required for the work of the Presbyterian missionary society.

A PIONEER GONE.

Vegreville Observer: The finding of the body of the late Richard Dinwoodie in the river about eight miles below Fort Saskatchewan definitely closed a varied, interesting and useful career.

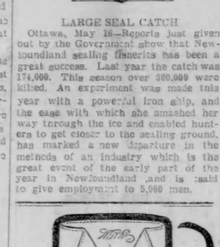

Mr. Dinwoodie was born in the Lammermuir Hills, Scotland, and his early life was that typical of the district. He was a shepherd boy. When about twenty years of age he emigrated to Canada and homesteaded a farm on the present site of the city of Brandon. He was connected with the early years of that place for some time and was the first grain buyer to do business on the market of the wheat city. Later on he removed to Strathcona and at once became a factor in the upbuilding of that town and subsequently city of Edmonton. In fact, throughout the whole of Northern Alberta Mr. Dinwoodie's influence, always beneficial and on the side of progress, made itself felt. He was ever on the alert for opportunities to improve the conditions of life of the settlers and many a man in this district will always remember with gratitude the kindly aid received from him. Particularly is true of the Galician settlers, to whom he extended both material aid and timely advice. For some time he resided on his farm, north half of 15-53-15-W. 4, and during his residence there was instrumental in the formation of a school district and a local improvement district. He gave his name to the post office north of Lavoy and was postmaster, also occupying the position of Justice of the Peace.

Three years ago he conceived the idea of forming an Agricultural Society in this district. With Mr. Dinwoodie, to think meant to act, and the result of his efforts was the Vermilion Valley and Beaver Lake Agricultural Society. He had formerly taken a prominent part in the Strathcona Agricultural Society and the experience gained there together with his own fertility of resource brought the newly formed Society at once to the front rank. He became its first President in 1903, filled the same position in 1904, sat on the directorate in 1905 and was again elected as president for 1906. His co-workers in the Society bear ample testimony to his capacity for organization, and his great value to the Society. His death is the greatest loss it could sustain.

Mr. Dinwoodie was forty-four years of age a Presbyterian and a Liberal politics.

LARGE SEAL CATCH

Ottawa, May 16.—Reports just given out by the Government show that Newfoundland sealing fisheries has been a great success. Last year the catch was 174,000. This season over 280,000 were killed. An experiment was made this year with a powerful iron ship, and the ease with which she smashed her way through the ice and enabled hunters to get closer to the sealing ground, has marked a new departure in the methods of an industry which is the great event of the early part of the year in Newfoundland and is said to give employment to 5,000 men.

FREIGHING IN EDMONTON

C. P. R. Cars Switched Over E. Y. & P. and Laid Down at Tenth Ave. Yard

The city workmen commenced this morning clearing and grading Tenth avenue to allow access to the C. P. R. tracks and the site of the freight shed which is to be built alongside the switch.

The C. P. R. is already delivering freight at Tenth avenue, and this morning there were 35 cars standing on the track, of which about 15 cars were mountain lumber for local yards. The C. P. R. is working on a switching arrangement with the C. N. R. and cars are being forwarded from Strathcona over the E. Y. & P. by the C.N. R. engines.

There are still 20 teams working between Edmonton and Strathcona, but it is expected that they will have everything cleaned up over there and will commence work on this side to catch up with deliveries. Sixteen teams from Winnipeg have been working on the Strathcona road in an effort to keep up with freight deliveries for Edmonton made at Strathcona, and now that the C. P. R. is laying down cars in Edmonton these teams will be taken off the road.

The C. P. R. is hauling in gravel from Wetaskiwin to ballast the Tenth avenue spur and is arranging to put in switches on both sides of the main track.

MAN WANTED

Calgary Albertan: The police are looking for a man named J. D. Williams, an American, who drifted into the city a week ago.

They believe that he robbed a man named Greighton, from Daysland, at the Empire hotel yesterday morning.

Greighton came in from the north on Wednesday night. He went into the Empire hotel and asked for a place to lie down and sleep until the east bound train came in. He was sober at the time and was shown up to a room in the hotel. He asked to be called for the train and also ordered a couple of flasks of liquor which were put up for him to take with him.

When he was called for the train he said that he would not get up, but would wait until the afternoon train. About three o'clock in the morning he did get up and then came down and meeting Williams who was sitting in the waiting room at the time, they began to make free with the two flasks. After partaking of it they went upstairs and to another room. The both went to bed, but when Creighton woke up in the morning Williams was gone and also $230.

Creighton was on his way from Dayland to Guelph ,Ont.

REBUILDING IN SAN FRANCISCO

J. S. Berkman, of the Palace Clothing Co. has received a letter from his brother Ike Berkman, in San Francisco, dated May 12th, which tells in Graphic terms of the completeness of the destruction by earthquake and fire and the effort that is being made to rebuild the city. Mr. Berkman was in the wholesale wine business himself and comparatively speaking, suffered in a financial success as great a loss as anyone in the city, as he lost everything. He says in part:

"Previous to the fire I figured that I was easily worth $3,000, in fact I would not have sold out for that. Now after that 48-second shake it has struck to "Nill" with a capital N.

Evidence of the big fire and earthquake are still all around us. It will be many a day before the debris of bricks and twisted steel will be cleared away ,but already street cars are running on almost every line that was operating before; all the cable lines are turned into overhead trolley lines. On Market street, for the first time, electric cars are speeding back and forth instead of the slow cable cars. The railroad engines are running on Copp street and Howard and Third street for the purpose of removing quickly to tons upon tons of debris. Immense steam shovels are pouring this into raised sheds along the tracks; the cars run underneath and in the twinkling of an eye a whole trainload of San Francisco is speeding away to the dumps outside the city. At this rate it will not take long to ge tthe ruined district in shape for rebuilding. Already temporary places of business are going up all over the city around which the permanent steel and stone structures will acon rear their heads and the up-building of a greater, more beautiful San Francisco will have been bagun. There is talk of running the broad Van Ness boulevard right through market street and the south of Market street district to he bay, cutting the city practically in two parts. Thereby preventing a repetition of the big fire. Also the Panhandle might be extended all the way down town. The committee who have the rebuilding of San Francisco in charge will see that good boulevards and wide streets will give the new city ample protection against a big fire. Immense reservoirs will be placed on every available hill top and filled with a permanent supply of water as a further protection against earthquake destroying the water pipes as in the late fire. One prominent business man here comes out with the statement that in three years from now the city will be as completely built up as it was a month ago, but I think it will take five times that long before dear old 'Frisco will be himself again, yet the spirit of rising from the ashes is strong in every one's breast and there is no doubt that San Francisco will recover very quickly from the terrible blow which pemporarily disables it.

Free rations are still being given away to the needy as well as coats, mattresses, blankets and clothing. No one who is worthy of aid is left in need. Tents are supplied to those who cannot pay rent or fix up a house again. Roy, Dave and the babies are living like Nomads of the prairie in one of them. For aunt ite, uncle and family, I built up a fine board shack and they are living comfortable enough for 'Frisco.

Every vacant lot in the city is now covered with these tents and shacks and our rights are the same as if we owned the city. The whole city is like one immense came, and one family. Formality is a thing of the past introductions are entirely superfluois, as every one talkes to every one, visiting each others camps like old friends. The great temblor and fire of 1906 did one thing and did it well—it swept aside all society barriers and made us all ,grat and small, equals. Society bells, and swells of the upper ten, all got their medicine, and they travel the streets now with plain clothes and plain manners. The fire has burned off their thin veneer polish and levelled us all, and they are willing to be just plain men and women hereafter. Their stylish cafes and restaurants and club houses have all gone up in the general conflagration and they are now glad to live along side the common people in their government tents and shacks and it will be many a long day before that society flag will float over the city flaunting its red bunting in the eyes of the honest ,but poor people, who are not fortunate enough to be born with a silver spoon in their mouth horn with a silver spoon in their mouths. Chinatown ,famous the world has also passed into history and there is talk of having the future one at Hunter's point ,some eight miles from here. The Tenderloin district, that hot bed of iniquity, is wiped out as if by the hand of great fate, and of course the destruction of Market street took with it the grandest buildings the city could boast of. Fillmore street is now the temporary Market street. All buildings on that thoroughfare are occupied by the biggest business people who lost their homes down town. Leases in most cases are made out for two years when those people expect to be back to Market street again.

SHOULD STATE SOME REASON

A debate arose in Parliament on Wednesday last over the statement made by the Minister of the Interior on the preceding day regarding returns asked for by Opposition members. Mr. Oliver, replying to Mr. Taylor, of Leeds, said (Hansard, May 9):

"Mr. Oliver.—I would just like to add to the remarks of my hon. friend (Mr. Taylor) that as our friends on the other side are showing such great success in saving money to the country while they are in opposition compared to their achievements when they were the government I have no doubt the country will take the honorable gentlemen at the valuation which my honorable friend has placed upon them and keep them in the position in which they are so very useful. I wish to resent unqualifiedly and absolutely and as strongly as language is permitted to me by the rules of parliament, the suggestion of the honorable leader of the opposition that my remarks were of the nature of a scold. I think my honorable friend will have to take that application to himself. What was my sin? On what ground does my honorable friend base his suggestion? A motion comes before the house for a return. It is my place to give the facts in regard to that motion. I had asked that it should stand over two previous day's proceedings in order that facts might be given. The motion is made. I rise in my place and give the bare facts without any comment and my honorable friend forthwith gets up and treats myself to a tirade of abuse such as this House has not seen or heard during the session. It is true that I have exercised my privilege of replying and I am sorry if my hon. friend does not appreciate the humble efforts which I have put forth. There is no question but that the department can provide the honorable gentleman with the information he now asks for. It is not suggested that the department cannot do so, but it is suggested that to provide that information it will take two clerks two week's work, and it is suggested that this labor is possibly not necessary, inasmuch as certain of the figures are in the blue-books to be published. If the honorable member has any other reason than mere curiosity he should state it before he asked the country to be put to the expense of the preparation of this return. That is all."

BRITISH IMMIGRATION

On Wednesday last Mr. Ralph Smith M. P. for Nanaimo, brought up in the House the questions of misrepresentations made in Great Britain for the purpose of inducing British workmen to come to Canada. He said a Canadian agency, apparently working in the interests of Canadian employers had secured quarters in the same building in which the Canadian Immigration office in London was located and had by this and other means endeavored to associate itself with the Canadian Immigration Department in the hope of better securing immigrant workmen. In reply the Minister of the Interior informed the House that the rights of the agents had been purchased and that they no longer occupied the premises. He further announced a change in the regulations by which bonuses are now paid only on those who have had experience in farming. The following is from Hansard, May 9th:

"Mr. Oliver. I understand the honorable gentleman who moved this motion (Mr. Ralph Smith) to indicate to the House that there was in the same building as that occupied by the Dominion Government immigration offices in London an employment agency operated under pretense of having some connection or association with the Government's Immigration Department. I would like to inform the House that that idea had been suggested to the Immigration Department some time ago, and that in view of the results of the investigation made by the Immigration branch in September of last year, the rights of the person in question, Mr. Leopold, in occupying part of that building were purchased by the Interior Department and since that time that gentleman has not been occupying any part of the building under control of the Immigration Department in London and has not been able in any way so far as I am aware, to establish any communication either of one kind or another with the operations of the Immigration branch of the Interior Department. I would like further to say that as I have already mentioned to the House the immigration branch of the Interior Department, recognizing that while the demand for immigration in this country related entirely to farmers and those who would be employed on farms the inducement held out to booking agents in the old country under the recent regulations were equal in regard to all classes of the community.

"Under the administration of those regulations as they then prevailed, there was not that distinction between the agricultural classes and other classes that were desirable. The regulations were amended so that, instead of paying a bonus of $1.75 per head to immigrants of any class who declared their intention of becoming agriculturists, since the 1st of April a bonus of 25 per head has been paid only on those who have been actually engaged in agriculture in the old country, or in certain kindred occupations which are specified the purpose being to withdraw from those who are connected with the business of soliciting immigration to Canada any inducement that the department may have hitherto held out to immigrants of any other class who would, by reason of their past experience he considered as people whose only object in coming to Canada was to go upon the land."

A FLING AT THE IRISH IMMIGRANT

The latest announcement of Conservative immigration policy is the following editorial from the Winnipeg Telegram:

THE PURSUIT OF HUMAN BEINGS

An Irish M. P. protests against Canada's action is bonusing shipping agents for every Irish emigrant they booked to Canada. He asks that representations be made to the Dominion government to discontinue the practice. The average Canadian will sincerely hope that official representations will be made and furthermore that they will be promptly heeded at Ottawa.

It is little short of a national shame that there should be any excuse for protests. Canada does not want immigrants who have to be bought or stolen, and the Sifton immigration policy seems to have favored both these expedients. The Irish emigrant who wants to come to Canada will find his way here without the gentle persuasions of the shipping agents. If he wants to go to the United States he will succeed in his purpose even if the influence of a subsidized shipping agent sends him by way of Canada.

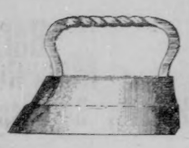

The traffic in emigrants which Canada is promoting by subsidy and stealth is undignified and unprofitable. We cannot advertise too energetically the attractions of Canada to the outside world, but having shown the opportunities which are open to settlers we have done all that it is wise to do. The emigrants worth having will require nothing but information and direction. Their own good judgment and enterprise will guide their course to Canada. It will not be necessary to subsidize companies to steal them or bribe shipping agencies to herd them into Canadian routes.

If there ever was in Canada's history a day when it was advisable to regard emigration as a purchasable commodity that day is past. We should continue to give the greatest possible publicity to the country's advantages but there is no occasion for representing Canada as an extravagant bidder for anything and everything in the form of human beings.

The question of continuing the policy of bonused immigration may be a matter for legitimate difference of opinion but no opinion on this subject warrants or excuses this malicious and undeserved assault on the Irish people and on the thousands of them who, by reason of such policy have found homes in Canada. If the Telegram's article has meaning at all it means that the Irish immigrants who have been persuaded to come to Canada by reason of the bonuses to shipping agents are not wanted and not worth having and that no more immigrants from that country should be secured in this manner. No greater libel was ever perpetrated by a public journal on the representatives of a great people than this atrocious attack on the Irish immigrants in Canada. Nor was public opinion ever more grossly misrepresented than the suggestion that these people are not wanted in Canada. There are in the Dominion today many thousand Irishmen who would never have seen the country but for the fact that some one was interested in inducing them to come here. These immigrants are surpassed neither in the qualities which make for material success, nor in the qualifications of good citizenship by any people on earth. There is not a community in which the Telegram circulates which does not count among its most prosperous and public-spirited citizens Irishmen who have been led to make their homes in the West by the representatives of a shipping company; nor is there a branch of industry in Western Canada which has not been strengthened and enriched by the brains and sinew of members of this virile race, whose coming to Canada was due to the efforts of the shipping agents. Surely this is poor reason why these people should be referred to as "anything and everything in the form of human beings."

Hitherto the Opposition, in trying to discredit the immigration policy, have devoted their abuse almost exclusively to immigrants from the continent of Europe. Apparently, however, their slander is now to be extended to the new comers from the Isles to which the Canadian people owe their origin and to which they enthusiastically proclaim their allegiance. A few days since the House of Commons witnessed the unpleasant spectacle of a member of the Opposition rising in his place to assail the character of the immigrants who have come and are coming to Canada from England; we have now the equally regrettable instance of the leading Conservative organ of the West belying the character of the immigrants from Ireland; we shall wait with patience and assurance the day when some equally truthful and patriotic Lucomo shall attack the character of the new comers from Scotland.

And this from the party which has posed as the teachers of loyalty!

Bishop Stringer Talks of the Far North

Bishop Stringer, who succeeded Bishop Bompas in mission work in the far north, will reach Edmonton this week from the east en route to the Mackenzie river, where he has ministered to the Indians since 1892. Bishop Stringer is a graduate of Toronto University and of Wycliffe College; born in 1866 of Irish parentage, in the county of Bruce, he may be claimed as a Canadian. He labored in the Mackenzie river district for ten years, coming out on furlough in 1901, returning in '03, after consulting an occulist regarding an eye trouble which threatened to be serious.

Herschel island was his objective point at this date, and accompanied by his young wife, he made the overland trip by the old trails on the Edmonton-Athabasca route; a distance of over two thousand miles. Reaching Herschel island, the young missionary found his home and church to be a club or billiard hall used by the whalers on the American fishing vessels as a place of amusement when the northern port was made; the billiard table served as a pulpit on the Sabbath and as a bed and table at other times. The lumber to build this house was brought from San Francisco by whale ships.

In an interview with the Winnipeg Free Press Bishop Stringer said recently: "My work is entirely among the Indians, the clan known as the 'Loucheaux,'' or cross-eyed ones. At 'Carcross (an abbreviation of Caribou Crossing) there is an Anglican school doing splendid work. Boys and girls are admitted and the boys are taught carpentering and other trades while the girls are taught household economy. This school was removed from Forty Mile five years ago when the needs at that point became less and the needs at Carcross became greater. One matron and one lady teacher comprises the staff. Other schools exist and are doing like work, and the government grant per capita, with whatever we secure through mission funds is all that keeps up the good work. I may add that old country aid is falling off somewhat, and while the need for funds is still very great, the need for mission workers is still greater. The Indians are improving mentally, morally and physically, but there is a regretful admission to make; the advent of the white man has not aided in this direction. We need funds for the work — we must have funds and I am expected to raise an endowment fund of fifty thousand dollars for the bishopric of Selkirk within the next few years.

"The cost of living," said the bishop, "is very high. Labor exacts big pay, an ordinary washwoman employed by my wife receives 50 cents per hour, and an ordinary laborer receives the same money. It isn't skilled labor either," said the Bishop with a smile. "As an example let me quote the prices of a few staples: Flour is $40 a barrel; salt (has been) 50 cents per pound; beef 25 cents a pound and butter and eggs 60 cents per pound and per dozen. In short, everything sold is about twice the price of Winnipeg goods. Cattle are shipped in live and dead weight and fish is the staple food of the country.

"The work of the missionary," said the reverend gentleman, "has not been lessened but rather heightened. The first missionaries sent into the country were sent by the Roman Catholic church, and the names of these devoted men do not require to be given as they are household words. Many of them still live and labor in the north, and the Anglican church is, I believe, the only other church which has penetrated the northern wilds to carry the gospel to the poor savages.

"In connection with Anglican work the name of Archdeacon McDonald occurs to me just now. He was a pioneer missionary. It was to this good man's discovery that the gold fields of the Yukon were made known, as he was the first man to find nuggets of gold at the junction of the Porcupine and Yukon rivers and it was he who sent to (I think) the London Times samples of his find, for it was that journal recorded the first facts regarding the finding of gold on the banks of the Yukon when the big rush of 1901 began. Archdeacon Macdonald went to that country in 1862.

"It is a wealthy country in that far northland" said the bishop, "coal is being taken out at the Tantalus mines, and the output is considerable. The commodity is used regularly by boats on the Yukon and coal indications are found, I believe, at White Horse and at Selkirk. Gas springs are also found along the banks of the Yukon river; I myself have often used the natural gas, which comes up through the cracks in the earth for boiling my little tin kettle. All you require to do is to set the match to a spot where the odor is found, and, presto! you have the water merrily boiling in a jiffy.

"Formerly the country was overrun by Americans. Now that is all changing, and the newcomers to the north are Canadian born. Perhaps it is that the Americans are becoming Canadianized, but travelling through the country now-a-days, the fact is borne in on your minds that the Canadians are greatly in the majority; we are getting more particular,' said his lordship, "as to whom we welcome to the great north now. The tough finds his row a hard one to hoe, and this in great measure is owing to the excellent management of the members of the R.N.W.M.P., whose work in the wild sections of the northland cannot be over-estimated. It isn't the numbers of them, nor is it the force of their authority; it is the subtle something which enters the mind of the wrong-doer whenever he meets the eye of the man wearing the red jacket. Why, an ordinary constable wearing no badge of office beyond his small cap and red coat, strikes terror to the heart of the toughest. It is the dignity and the determination of the police, and the splendid esprit de corps of the force. The mounted police, it may be asserted, have been the safety and the pride of the whole north country.

A DARING ESCAPE

A daring and successful escape of a life prisoner occurred from the Kingston penitentiary on Monday of last week when Joseph Chalabran, alias Chartrand ,who was sentenced two years ag oat Sault Ste Marie, to be hanged for murder, but whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, made his escape. Chalabran was in the insane ward, though he was never considered very simple. The previous evening he was in his cell, and in the morning at six o'clock his cell was empty.

His flight from the penitentiary was the most daring and puzzling that has occurred at the institution in a quarter of a century. The manner in which the convict got away was so plain that the prison authorities can scarcely realize that one shut in a cell could have got clear away as Chalabran did. Guard James A. Fegg was on duty in the insane ward, where the murderer was domiciled. Every hour he passed the cell, and wound the clock, which is just alongside. Nothing within indicated that the convict was other than asleep in his cot. When it was discovered that the bird had blown it was seen that a kind of dummy made of flower pots had been put in the cot, and this appeared like the sleeper. At what hour Chalabran took his departure it would be difficult to say. He may have got away before midnight, or perhaps some hours later. The mode of escape was this:—After filing through three window bars the murderer took off the pulley ropes on which the window worked. These he tied together and on the end he fastened the handle of his pail which served as a hook. Placing the hook around one of the solid bars he let go the rope and slid down from his third story window to the ground.

Around the insane ward there is an eight foot wall. This Chalabran scaled with ease. Then he had to go across a lighted yard to the high western wall, but he succeeded in getting over this. After getting down from this wall he was unable to release the rope and hook, and consequently left them to tell the direction of his flight. He used the yawl of a schooner to cross a small bay to the wharf opposite the prison. Chalabran is half French and Indian. His original home was in Montreal, and then he drifted to Ottawa. After that he went up to the Soo. He found employment there as a trapper, and combined that life with one of a rough sailor.

It was in a fracas that he registered arrest at the Soo, and shot a policeman dead. After being a fugitive for three days he was discovered in a swamp. After being sentenced to death his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment on the plea of insanity. It is six years ago since a prisoner successfully escaped from the penitentiary, but from the outside, hiding in a building on the penitentiary farm while the gang was marched back. He was never caught. But it is twenty-five years or more since a prisoner escaped from inside in a similar manner.

GAPON'S BODY FOUND

St. Petersburg, May 15.—The mystery of the fate of Father Gapon was apparently cleared up yesterday by the discovery of a corpse which has almost positively been identified as that of the former priest, hanging in an upper chamber of a lonely villa in a summer suburb of Finland.

The villa was rented April 8 for the summer and a deposit paid by an unknown man from St. Petersburg, who after visiting the house several times, in company with a young man, disappeared, April 11, taking the key with him. The proprietress of the villa, alarmed at the non-appearance of the tenant, notified the police, who entered the house.

Breaking down the door they were confronted by a body in a long coat hanging from a nail, the feet touching the floor. Decomposition of the face made identification difficult, but the features resembled those of Gapon, and the clothing corresponds with that worn by the missing labor leader.

As the usual symptoms of strangulation were absent, it is conjectured that the man was killed and his body brought to the villa on the night of April 10. This would agree with the execution of Gapon according to indeath sentence as announced in recent third cabin 1,000; crew 460. Total papers.

HOW THE CLASH WAS AVERTED

In a manner characteristic of Turkish diplomacy the porte made an eleventh hour surrender to the British demand concerning the Tabah boundary. It has been believed in many quarters that the Sultan would not yield until actual force was displayed, but his decision probably was facilitated by the knowledge that none of the powers supported his attitude, and the fact that the British naval preparations had kept pace with her diplomatic demands.

Sir Nicholas R. O'Connor, the British ambassador at Constantinople, in his earlier dispatches had prepared the British Government for Turkey's compliance with its demands, and little attention need be paid to the reports of a conditional surrender, that phrase probably being intended to satisfy the Turkish people.

It is understood that the British fleet will be kept at Phalerum bay pending a final settlement of the question and delimitation of the frontier. When this is settled it is expected that the British Government will take measures to render Egypt strategically secure against any similar aggression by establishing a strong Egyptian garrison and fortifying Elarish and if the water difficulty in the desert region can be solved by placing Egyptian garrisons at points on the desert routes from Tabah and Gaza, along which an invading army might threaten the Suez canal. It is also not unlikely that Great Britain will demand the withdrawal of the Turkish commissioner at Cairo, who is credited with fostering an anti-British agitation.

A Constantinople despatch of Monday says: Tabah has been evacuated by the Turkish troops by order of the sultan. The porte replied on Friday on Friday to the British note agreeing to the evacuation of Tabah and to the appointment of a commissioner for the delimitation of the boundary, but it was not couched in such terms as to make it acceptable to Sir Nicholas O'Connor, the British ambassador and he insisted on complete satisfaction being given before the expiration of the limit set by the British note.

According to special despatches from Constantinople, the porte's reply to the British note promised to restore the status quo in the Simai peninsula and the delimitation of the frontier by Turkish and Egyptian officials now on the spot. Sir Nicholas R. O'Connor, the British ambassador to Turkey insists on the delimination by an Anglo-Turkish commissioner. This is the demand the sultan was trying to evade as it would acknowledge Great Britain's protectorate over Egypt, while the sultan maintains that Egypt is a portion of his empire. A Constantinople correspondent says that Towfik Pasha, the Turkish foreign minister, subsequently furnished Ambassador O'Conner with explanations which he considered quite satisfactory, thus ending

The porte also replied to Germany's protest against the boarding and detention of the German sailing ship Oiyseus, by Turkish officials recently, while the vessel was discharging her cargo at Chibiklu. The reply expresses regret at the occurance and promised to punish the officials responsible for it, but it proposes a reduction of the indemnity of $3,500, which Germany demanded. The German protest described the seizure of the Olysseus as an act of piracy.

RANFURLY GROWING

Ranfurly, May 12. — Ranfurly is progressive. All that is wanted now is for the C. N. R. to put in a station and the people of the town will do the rest. There is already $500 in the town treasury for the grading of Main street and the work has already started, going from the station site to the end of Main street. That goes to show that although we are not heard from very often, we are all alive and kicking (for a station). It is easy to see by the number of passengers getting on and off and the amount of freight that has to be thrown off, that there is enough traffic in Ranfurly to have a station and crossing to accommodate the public.

Ranfurly this spring has 3500 acres under crop and that is no estimate. It is the report of a committee that was authorized to investigate and to send to the Alberta Grain Company, as an inducement for an elevator, which is greatly needed at Ranfurly. Farmers from twenty-eight miles south are holding their grain of last year's crop expecting to have a market for their produce in the town, and not have to haul to neighboring towns under great difficulty, so it is up to the grain buyers to come to Ranfurly and give us an elevator.

The citizens of Ranfurly and farmers of the neighborhood had a meeting today for the purpose of getting a creamery in Ranfurly and it proved to be very satisfactory. This township can easily support a creamery.

Mr. Alfred Bials has given two acres to the R. C. Mission as a site for a church. We expect to see it built in a few weeks.

Everybdoy that has travelled over the C. N. R. could not help seeing our beautiful big lake, and they will see more next time they come. There are sailboats now, and four more are being built.

Bob. McErnan was in Ranfurly last Friday on his way to Mr. Sudbury's, six miles from Ranfurly.

Messrs. McIntyre & McSweeney are building a new blacksmith shop, the old one being too small to turn out the work. The new one will be fitted with first class tools and everything to make it an up to date shop.

Mr. J. W. Reid has received two more cars of lumber and is busy unloading.

T. S. Wood has completed his new store and is moved in with his large stock of dry goods and groceries.

Mr. Frank Gaebie and wife spent Sunday in town on their way to their new home, 18 miles south of Ranfurly.

Mr. Fazling is busy building a large feed barn for Parent & Pepin, which will be finished by the end of the week.

NEW LINER BREAKS RECORD

The Empress of Britain, the new liner, which the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has just sent afloat in its Atlantic steamship service, arrived at Father Point on Friday and came across in 5 days, 23 hours and 17 minutes, which includes the difference in time from Moville. This breaks the speed record for that route, and places the Empress of Britain among the list of vessels which are in the record-breaking business in the Canadian service. Her daily runs were 417, 433, 452, 7369, 410, and 443 knots to Rimouski, which place she passed at 12.25 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Throughout the voyage the Empress was in wireless touch with the outer world. During the first part of the voyage her wireless operator was in communication with the Poldhu station, and as she was nearing the limit of that station, she was in touch with the other waves, vibrating from Cape Race. On that day the vessel received word from both sides of the Atlantic.

The 'Britain' was built at the Fairfield ship-building works on the Clyde. Her principal dimensions are, length over all, 570 feet; beam, 65 feet, 6 inches; depth amidships, 45 feet; normal draft, tonnage, 14,500; horsepower, 18,000. Her passenger capacity is 87first cabin, 350; second cabin, 350; first cabin, 350; second cabin 250; capacity 2,1000.

"MR. MONEY-BURNER!"

REFLECT on this comparison.

A prime Canteloupe can be bought, in the country, for ten cents. Half of that same Canteloupe served in a swell city restaurant, with a farthing's worth of cracked ice, would cost you 50 cents.

Is the flavor any finer — the nutrition any greater — at a dollar, than at 10 cents?

Is a United States shoe any better in Canada, with a dollar added to its price for Customs duty, than that same shoe made in Canada, by the same process, from the same materials, on the same lasts, at a dollar less price?

Why does the United States Customs charge 25 per cent. on Canadian shoes imported into that country?

Because,—United States shoe men know they could not compete in value with the best Canadian made shoes if they had not such protection.

Well,—if that isn't the answer, what is?

"Far off hills look green" friends!

But,—no shoe made in America has better style, better material, or better workmanship, than The Slater Shoe, which is sold in Britain, France, Australia, Bermuda and the West Indies, in open competition with United States shoes.

And no U. S. shoe can be brought into Canada without paying 25 per cent. more for it than it is worth in the country that produces it.

Now take off your smoked glasses, and look this bare fact in the face.

Every genuine Slater Shoe is stamped on the lining (or the sole) with a slate-frame and the Makers' retail valuation, viz: $4.00 or $5.00.

Edmonton's Up-To-Date Book Bindery

An Edmonton industry which is rapidly developing to large proportions is the book binding and ruling department of the Bulletin. At the present time the branch of the company's business is working to capacity business, with orders coming in at a very rapid rate. When this department was undertaken it was with a certain amount of hesitancy as there was a doubt as to whether there was going to be business enough in the city to justify the outlay of the capital necessary to install the plant. However, these fears, if they might be so called, were quickly dispelled, as business has been coming in at a very rapid rate since the first, and recently the plant has been so flooded with orders that there was difficulty in getting enough experienced help, and at the present time an enlargement of the plant is being considered. The largest part of the orders so far has been in the line of commercial work, for which there is a large demand in the city. Heretofore merchants who required blank books to their order, such as ledgers, day books, pay rolls, stock books, check books, and all of the hundred and one other things which enter into commercial or industrial bookkeeping, were compelled to send to Winnipeg or some eastern city, and there was the consequent delay and annoyance of having to wait for the work and to take chances on the work being as ordered when delivered. With a plant such as the Bulletin has working right in the city, there is now no cause for delay, and the business man has the advantage of being able to supervise his proofs as the work progresses, a matter of no small importance. The loose leaf system is another branch which has been taken up by the Bulletin plant, and business men who want loose leaf books made to their order will be able to secure these from the Bulletin. It is often the case that a business man's requirements are such that the regular stereotyped forms of loose leaf books such as are usually sold out of stock do not suit and where he can have them made exactly as he requires at little or no advance in the price he is usually quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

In the bindery business there are really only two classes of work, letter press and blank book, although there may be a great many grades and styles of binding put on the books, ranging all the way from cheapest manilla to the full calf or morocco. In the letter press work done by the Bulletin, all grades and styles can be had. For instance, if one has a set of books on which the binding has become worn, or should he have a number of magazines which he wants bound, he can get a binding which will look well in the highest class library. A great deal of this work is being done at the present time, especially in the magazine binding. There are a great many magazines which one buys almost naturally from month to month and which it is quite natural to desire to retain, on account of some story or series of articles, but which, if they are left to lie around loose will become lost or mislaid. The binders will solve all that difficulty by binding the magazines up in first class form with an attractive cover, such as will make a very handsome ornament to the library.

One of the large jobs which the Bulletin bindery is handling at the present time is the binding of the consolidated ordinances of the Northwest Territories and the Statutes of Alberta which were passed at the last session of the Legislature here. The consolidated ordinances will be bound with leather in the regulation legal style, and the work of the session will be bound in cardboard. There will be altogether 2500 books in the order, enough to keep three or four binders and half a dozen girls sewing for over two months. The Bulletin is the only plant between Winnipeg and the Pacific coast in which the work could be turned out in the time.

Owing to the rush of trade in the bindery line the company, notwithstanding that it more than doubled its floor space a few months ago is, already finding the new premises cramped and is commencing to figure on putting another storey on the composing room.

G. T. P. AT SASKATOON

Saskatoon, May 13—General manager, Frank W. Morse was in town yesterday.

Mr. Morse gave little expression to his views of the work proceeding, but was careful to instruct Contractor Jackson to push on as rapidly as possible with the work. Completed plans are awaited daily by the contractors.

Interviewed by a reporter regarding the plans of his company for Saskatoon, Mr. Morse expressed himself as highly pleased with the development and general outlook of the town.

"Will the Grand Trunk Pacific locate a divisional point and repair shops at Saskatoon?" Mr. Morse was asked.

"We are not contemplating to do so," he replied, "I do not mean," he continued, "that a desirable site in the vicinity of Saskatoon is not obtainable but instead that a divisional point established here would not make the divisions the desired length. The distance over our line from Winnipeg to Saskatoon will be about 429 miles."

"Is it still possible," the reporter asked, "that you will enter the centre of Saskatoon with a line for passenger traffic?"

"Future developments alone will have to determine this latter question," Mr. Morse replied. "The station and main line would be less than two miles distant as at present planned. He expressed himself as not unwilling to consider any proposition which the city of Saskatoon might make to him for his company.

Railway contractors with procesaions of scrapers and hundreds of men and horses are hard at work altering the natural scenery of the locality with a rapidity that would do credit to San Francisco's justly famous earthquake.

A small village at the south end of the big slough in the west half of section 22-36-6, about five miles from town on the Louis Gourgeon farm is the tented village that comprises the camp of contractor Frank Jackson, who commencing the fifth mile from the river has the sub-contract from Foley Brothers & Larson, for the construction of fifty miles of the G.T.P. from there west. It is a big turnover of land as the real estate men would say, for Contractor Jackson to start with, for he has to remove a considerable portion of the neighboring high land into the lower end of the big slough, and altogether he has a fill of some hundreds of yards to make with in ten days years ago at Sault Ste. Marie to be shortly have his forces doubled on this work and will have several small-er outfits at work at different points along the line.

The Canadian White Company have several forces of men between here and Touchwood Hills, altogether ten gangs being at work at as many different points and these forces will be greatly augumented.

NEW B. C. GOLD FIELD.

Nelson, B.C., May 15.—A discovery of free gold in large quantities has just been made on Woodbury Creek. —The lucky finders have covered the country, which is somewhat difficult of access, with claims, recorded at the Ainsworth office. The free gold discoveries are declared to be equal to anything ever found in Poplar, when the gold ran on the Lucky Jack and other claims to some thousands of dollars to the ton. If the discovery is borne out by subsequent reports, there will be a great rush shortly to Woodbury Creek. This is situated on Kootenay Lake, emptying into it north of Proctor and south of Kaslo. Woodbury Creek's south fork, in which the discoveries were made, heads into the glacier on the northeast face of Kokanee Mountains (eight to nine thousand feet), and the only access at present is by trail. There is no settlement anywhere on the creek, but it can be reached by steamboat, three hours from Nelson.

DOWIE'S STRENUOUS LIFE

Chicago, May 15.—A meeting over which John Alexander Dowie presided at Zion City yesterday afternoon was broken up by a number of followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, assisted by several outsiders, and before the crowd dispersed a general fight ensued. No attempt at violence however was made against Dowie.

Dowie was so weak that he had to be carried from his carriage into the tabernacle. At the after meeting, called for Dowie adherents only, but which was invaded by a large number who were riotous at the former meeting, Dowie precipitated a second disturbance. He caused to be read a letter from one of his supporters stating that the writer's wife had passed safely through the crisis of a serious illness while Dowie prayed for her. This fact, Dowie contrasted with the case of Mrs. H. E. Canick, wife of an overseer, who died last Friday without medical attention, while Voliva and his supporters were offering prayers for her recovery. Dowie declared that he feared the woman died because she associated herself with the rebels.

Immediately there was a storm of hisses, and shouts of "shame."

"There is death in store for more of you if this rebellion keeps on," continued Dowie. Again the people sprang from their chairs shouting and gesticulating until the row became so general that Dowie was obliged to bring the meeting to a close.

Many and generous have been the laurels of praise that have been showered upon Madame Albani in years of concert touring. This sister of fair Canada—a native born Canadian—was a great favorite with the late Queen Victoria, and it was fitting that she should be chosen to sing at the memorial services in Westminster Abbey. But Albani, while drinking in the warmest plaudits in her concert touring in all parts of the world, never meets with a more cordial and enthusiastic reception than when she returns to her native country. The Canadian people never seem to tire of her singing. In her various returns to Canada for concert purposes, and in the extended series of concerts that she usually gives in the chief cities from ocean to ocean, she absolutely insists on the use of a Heintzman & Co. piano. Out of her large experience she has said, "The tone of the Heintzman & Co. piano is delightful. The elasticity of action is marvellous, every note ringing out clear, pearly and limpid quality. It excels any piano I have ever used."

The lot is 50x150 feet and is counted a very desirable location. It is understood that the purchaser intends using the property as an hotel site and will begin construction in the immediate future.

—Vegreville bObserver: Dubuc Bros., in sinking a well for A. M. Thompson, struck good water yesterday at a deth of sixty feet. The supply is apparently inexhaustible. Vegreville's great need so far has been a sufficient water supply and this problem is now well on toward solution.

—The funeral of Mrs. Casault, who died in the General Hospital on Monday, took place Wednesday afternoon, Rev. H. A. Gray officiating. Mrs. Casault was a daughter of Col. Wragge, of the Royal Artillery, and was a resident of the Edmonton district for many years. Her husband was a member of the Mounted Police, and was stationed at Fort Saskatchewan for some time. The deceased was about 50 years of age and is survived by her husband.

—The Edmonton Cricket Club will play a pick up match down at the exhibition grounds to-morrow afternoon, weather permitting. The enthusiastic followers of the great English game are making a strenuous effort to get something started in the cricket line for the coming season, and they expect to have a team that will make a record before the snow flies. All the members of the club are expected to turn out to-morrow to start the season off right.

—Vegreville Observer: Dubuc Brosgerald, of Edmonton, was in town last week arranging with Contractor Chas. Gordon for the erection of a block of stores on the southwest corner of Main street and Second avenue. It is understood that work on the block will be commenced at once and the buildings rushed to completion. The stores will be three in number having a total frontage of sixty feet and a depth of 50 feet.

—Lethbridge News: Evidently the C. P. R. is going to do a great deal of building in Lethbridge. The erection of a ten stall engine house means that this point will be the home of a number of train crews and a 130 yard freight shed means that Lethbridge is to be the centre of a large freight handling business. In addition to this, a prominent C. P. R. official has informed a well known Lethbridge man that work on the foundations of the $1,000,000 high level bridge would be commenced when the water in the river will permit.

BAITING THE MINISTER

Calgary Albertan: The members of the opposition are spending their time and the money of the people of Canada in a vain effort to annoy irritate and vex the Minister of the Interior.

The conduct of these men, who seem to delight in what they may describe as teasing the Minister of the Interior, is disgusting to the people of the country.

Take an instance of their methods. A member from Manitoba who, compared to Frank Oliver, ranks about as high as a grasshopper to the broncho itself, to which Mr. Oliver is being likened, asked for certain information from the Minister of the Interior and received the information. The same member tried again, and Mr. Turriff, member for East Assiniboia, who is very conversant with affairs in that department, gave the answer at some length. Then the very bright Manitoba person replied that he was quite satisfied with the reply but that he would prefer to hear the answer from the Minister himself, and Mr. Oliver, who is always obliging, gave the information.

This spectacle of an entire party, composed of able bodied and sane men who are supposed to be intelligent, spending their time, and the time of the country in an effort to harass one Minister of the Government is a deplorable one.

It is a matter of some satisfaction that Frank Oliver, real son of the west, that he is, is a match for them all; that he can beat them all at their own game, Foster, Borden, Maclean, McCarthy, and the entire crowd.

Though the Minister of the Interior is receiving an initiation that is somewhat more strenuous than the ordinary, yet in all probability it is the very kind he would select if he had the choosing, for he has the opportunity of showing the stuff that is in him. And he has shown it, too.

THE SUNDAY OBSERVANCE BILL.
